Version
1.0.0

Lowest Price in 30 Days (Omnibus) records every price change of your products and prints, under each discounted price, the lowest price applied in the 30 days before the discount. No manual upkeep: the history builds itself from the day you install it.

Requirements

Component	Version
Drupal	11.3
Commerce	3.x (Product)
PHP	8.3 or later
Cron	Running (automated cron or a system cron)

Installation

1. Download the latest version from My account > Downloads on ecom-addons.com.
2. Unzip the module into `modules/custom/` (the folder must be `modules/custom/ecom_addons_omnibus_price`).

3. Enable Lowest Price in 30 Days (Omnibus) in Extend, or run `drush en ecom_addons_omnibus_price`. The module records the current price of every variation.
4. Give the permission View the price history of products to the roles that manage the catalogue.

How it works

From installation on, the addon keeps a price history: a new row each time the price or the regular price of a product changes. Prices are recorded when a product variation is saved, once a day by cron for the whole catalogue (prices changed by imports), and when a discounted price is shown.

When a product is discounted (a list price higher than the price of the variation), the addon finds when the current discount started and takes the lowest price of the 30 days before that day, including the price that was already in effect when that period began. The line shows it with tax or without it, as your store shows prices.

The line is added to the variation's price field: on the product page (it follows the variation the customer picks) and in any list built with Views that shows that field. Commerce promotions are applied in the cart, not on the product page, so they are not price reductions recorded here.

A few rules worth knowing:

- The start of a promotion stays fixed while it lasts: extending it or making it deeper does not move the reference. If your country asks to count again from each deeper discount, change it in the settings.
- Short history. For a product on sale less than 30 days after you installed the addon, or a new product, the lowest price known is shown. When no price was recorded before the discount at all (the product was already on sale when you installed the addon), nothing is shown rather than a guessed price; the price history in the back office tells you so.
- Percentage (optional). If you announce discounts as a percentage, the addon can show how much lower the current price is than that lowest price, as the Court of Justice of the EU requires (case C-330/23). It is only shown when the price is really below it.

Price history

Each product has a Price history tab, next to Edit and Variations: the lowest price customers see for each discounted variation, when the discount started and the latest changes.

Settings

Go to Commerce > Configuration > Lowest price (`/admin/commerce/config/lowest-price`).

Every price change of your product variations is recorded. Under each discounted price (a list price higher than the price) the store shows the lowest price applied in the days before the discount started. Prices changed before the module was installed are not known.

1
Days before the discount

30
1 At least 30 days; a longer period if your country asks for it.

Show it on

Product pages and product lists

☒ Also show how much lower the current price is than that lowest price, in percent

2
When a discount gets deeper

Keep the lowest price from before the promotion started
2 For promotions whose discount grows step by step.

A promotion whose discount is increased step by step can keep the lowest price from before its first step, where national law allows it.

Save configuration

Commerce > Configuration > Lowest price: four settings, sensible defaults.

Setting	What it does
Days before the discount	30 by default, at least 30. A longer period if your country or your own policy asks for it.
Show it on	Product pages and product lists, or product pages only.
Percentage	Off by default. Adds "(X% below that price)" when the current price is below the lowest price.
When a discount gets deeper	Keep the lowest price from before the promotion started (default), or count it again from each deeper discount.

About the Omnibus Directive

Directive (EU) 2019/2161 (the "Omnibus" Directive) added article 6a to Directive 98/6/EC on price indication, applicable since 28 May 2022: any announcement of a price reduction must indicate the prior price, which is the lowest price applied during a period of not less than 30 days before the reduction. Member States may set other rules for perishable goods, a shorter period for products new on the market, and keep the price before the first step for reductions increased progressively.

The addon gives you the history and the line; how the rule applies to your shop (and which national options your country chose) is yours to check. This guide is not legal advice.

Data and uninstall

The addon stores prices and dates only, no personal data. The history is kept in its own table; cron deletes rows older than a year, except the ones a running discount still needs. Uninstalling removes the settings and the price history.

Languages

The addon is translated into English, Spanish and French; the line under the price follows the language of the page.
